The Chippewa Valley Tsunami: $2,500 Lifeline for Caregivers is Here

By Rellim Senior Day Care

You've probably heard the term "Silver Tsunami" tossed around. But what does it really mean for us here in the Chippewa Valley?

It means five people turn 65 every single day — and that will continue until 2030. Of those five, four will need long-term care, and two people every day will be diagnosed with dementia. That's more than 5,000 families navigating memory loss, safety concerns, and emotional strain.

It's not just a wave. It's a flood of need. And the ones holding the line? Caregivers.

At Rellim, we see these heroes every day. They are the caregivers — quietly juggling medications, appointments, emotional support, and the exhausting task of keeping their loved one safe. They're doing it with love, but often without backup.

Right now, 60% of caregivers report feeling burned out or overwhelmed, and 40% of caregiving situations end in a burnout crisis. It's often due to burnout blindness — stress builds slowly, so caregivers don't see it coming until they're already in crisis.

That's why we created the COPING Score — a simple, honest tool to help caregivers see where they stand. It's not emotional. It's not judgmental. It's just clarity. And clarity leads to action. And action leads to relief.

Scan the QR code to take the COPING Score and see where you stand.

Not only is Rellim here for you — but so is the GUIDE Program! This Medicare pilot provides $2,500 annually for respite care — for the next seven years — to help families breathe. It's designed to reduce caregiver burnout and keep seniors home longer, healthier, and safer. And here's the best part: families get to choose how to use it!

While GUIDE funds can be used for in-home care, families who choose Rellim discover just how far those dollars can stretch — and how much more they receive. Instead of just three full days of in-home help, $2,500 covers 25 days of RN-directed, activity-rich, friendship-filled care. That's nearly half a year of weekly relief, without the financial strain. It's not just cost-effective — it's connection-effective.

We also believe in prevention, not reaction. When caregivers are supported, seniors thrive. Families stay stronger. Seniors sleep in their own beds. And yes — it's better for the wallet, too!

Eligibility Checklist for GUIDE Funds

To qualify, families need:

1. Medicare Part A & B (not an Advantage plan)
2. A dementia diagnosis — any type
3. Not currently on hospice
4. Not living in a skilled nursing facility (assisted living or senior housing is okay!)

Even with dementia, socialization matters. It reduces behaviors, improves sleep, brings joy — and gives caregivers a full day off to rejuvenate. And if you're a spouse or family member who needs a break, this is your chance.

Call us today 715-600-0746 — enrollment takes just five minutes, and you could be using the $2,500 GUIDE funds in as little as two weeks. Don't qualify? Still call us, we can help!

At Rellim, we're ready to walk with you — one day of relief at a time.

It's About Living Well — Right to the End

By Stokes, Prock & Mundt Funeral Chapel

We spend our lives planning for the things that matter — vacations, weddings, retirement, even what's for dinner next week. But one plan many of us avoid is one of the most meaningful of all: planning for how we want to be remembered. Funeral preplanning isn't about death; it's about living well, right up to the very end. It's a chance to ensure that your final chapter reflects the life you've lived — and to give your loved ones the priceless gift of peace of mind.

Many people don't realize how much emotional weight is tied up in "what if" thoughts about the future. Questions like "What will happen when I'm gone?" or "Will my family know what to do?" can quietly sit in the back of your mind for years. By taking the time to preplan your funeral, you clear away that mental clutter. Instead of uncertainty, there's calm. Instead of leaving decisions to others, you've put your wishes into place — and that frees you to enjoy today more fully.

Preplanning is about more than choosing a casket or a service date. It's about telling your story the way you want it told. Maybe you want a traditional service with hymns and prayers, or perhaps you imagine something more personal — a celebration with laughter, favorite music, and photo displays. You can choose readings that reflect your values, request a memorial slideshow of family moments, or even plan a gathering in a special location, like the garden you loved or the lake where you spent summers.

When you make those choices yourself, you shape a farewell that's as unique as the life you lived. It's your story — and you get to write the ending.

One of the most profound benefits of preplanning is the gift it gives to those you love. In the days following a loss, families face dozens of decisions, often under emotional strain and time pressure.

Without guidance, they may struggle with questions: Would Mom have wanted a burial or cremation? Did Dad prefer a small service or something larger?

By answering those questions in advance, you lift a tremendous burden from their shoulders. They can focus on what truly matters — comforting one another and celebrating your life — rather than worrying whether they're "getting it right." Many families describe a deep sense of relief when they know they're carrying out their loved one's wishes exactly as intended.

There's also a practical side to preplanning: it allows you to make financial decisions thoughtfully and ahead of time. Funeral costs can add unexpected stress for families, but preplanning gives you options — from setting aside funds to prepaying for services at today's prices. It's one more way to ensure your affairs are in order and your loved ones are protected.

Perhaps the most surprising thing about preplanning is how life-affirming it can be. Many people say they feel lighter, more at peace, and even more focused on enjoying life once their plans are in place. It often sparks meaningful conversations with children and grandchildren, giving you the chance to share memories, values, and wishes openly.

And with that important task checked off your list, you're free to focus on what truly matters: savoring the time you have, making new memories, and embracing each day without the shadow of uncertainty.

Preplanning isn't about preparing for death — it's about making the most of life. It's an act of love, a celebration of individuality, and a final gift of clarity and comfort to those you cherish most. By planning ahead, you ensure that your story ends the way it deserves to: with grace, purpose, and the same thoughtfulness that guided the rest of your life.

After all, living well doesn't stop at the end — it simply takes a different kind of planning.

• ASSISTED LIVING FACILITIES •

CBRF (Community-Based Residential Facility) and RCAC (Residential Care Apartment Complex) are Wisconsin assisted living types differing mainly by care level and living space: CBRFs offer more hands-on care (including up to 3 hours skilled nursing/wk) in a shared/room setting with 24/7 staff, suited for higher needs; RCACs provide private apartments with kitchenettes for more independent seniors needing less support (up to 28 hours care/wk), fostering independence with more autonomy.

Community-Based Residential Facility (CBRF)

- Living: Private or shared rooms with common areas.
- Care: Higher level; 24/7 staff, supervision, medication management, assistance with all ADLs (bathing, dressing), up to 3 hours of skilled nursing weekly.
- Ideal For: Moderate to high care needs, including dementia/memory care.

Residential Care Apartment Complex (RCAC)

- Living: Private apartments with kitchens/kitchenettes, living areas, private baths.
- Care: Moderate support; up to 28 hours of personal/nursing services weekly, focuses on independence.
- Ideal For: Independent seniors needing occasional help, promoting autonomy.

Key Differences Summarized

- Independence vs. Support: RCACs lean toward independence; CBRFs offer more dependence with comprehensive care.
- Housing: RCACs are apartments; CBRFs are rooms.
- Staff/Care: CBRFs have 24/7 staff and higher care limits (including skilled nursing); RCACs provide less intensive, scheduled support.

Adult Family Homes — where 3 or 4 adults who are not related to the operator reside and receive care, treatment or services that are above the level of room and board. May include up to 7 hours per week of nursing care per resident.

Friends at the Lake

by Laurie Van Beek, Director of Friends at the Lake

Friends at the Lake operates under the Respite for All (RFA) faith-based volunteer model of care, which differs from other respite models by addressing isolation, meaning, and purpose. Our mission, at Friends at the Lake, is to fill the participants with identity, connection, security, autonomy, meaning, growth, and joy. The program emphasizes creating an environment where all participants are valued, and the distinction between volunteers and those receiving services is minimized. Daphne Johnson, Executive Director of Respite for All Foundation, states, “The Respite for All model is a way of responding to dementia that brings fresh resources and renewed hope – a truly holistic approach unlike anything out there.”

Friends at the Lake is held at Lake Street United Methodist Church, located at 337 Lake Street in Eau Claire, Wisconsin. The program currently operates on Tuesdays from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm. Caregivers may bring a loved one living with dementia to the church and are then able to attend to personal matters or appointments during the four-hour session. Participants engage in a range of activities and are provided with a family-style lunch in a supportive social setting. At 2:00 pm, caregivers return for pick-up, frequently greeted by positive feedback regarding the participant's experience and enjoyment of the day's activities.

Friends at the Lake follows a social model of care.

Volunteers receive training focused on the social and relational aspects of supporting individuals with dementia, providing opportunities for mental stimulation and social interaction through relationship building. During Friends at the Lake, participants engage in organized music sessions, cognitive development exercises, physical activities, and art programs within a dynamic community setting. These activities foster shared experiences, promote social interaction, and facilitate the formation of new relationships.

If you are interested in learning more and would like to join our program or if you are interested in volunteering your time please contact Laurie Van Beek, 715-832-6603 or laurievb@lakestreetumc.org
